1. Do you think the conceptual design of the Draft Framework works? What would you change?

There should be no way that anyone that does not have a degree in library science or a dip in library practice should be allowed to have a status at all with ALIA that makes it look like they are a professional or paraprofessional in our industry. Just because a company is prepared to erroneously employ someone in our industry with no quals does not mean that they should get any status with our professional body.

2. Are there any elements that you would add, amend, or remove?

The ability for non qualified staff to do some PD and then have a status with ALIA

3. Would a Framework along the lines of the draft Framework be useful to you in your career or workplace? How could you see it being used?

To employ people without qualifications.

4. Is LIS professional recognition valuable to you? What changes would you like to see to professional recognition?

100% - why else do we go to uni to get the qual?

5. Any other comments?
